Comments from Administrators of 1st-year teachers 2017-18:

She was well prepared for her role in the special education classroom.

She is prepared to meet the challenges of teaching.

{snip} came in with a lot of this knowledge, but most of the statements had to do with what she does in her team and how she takes it back to her classroom. {snip} is a top notch educator and was very well prepared. She is also a quick learner and is not afraid to ask questions or question things when appropriate. I was fortunate to hire two amazing first year teachers and she was one of them.
